

TULSA CHILDREN'S MUSEUM AT OWEN PARK

Ethos Architects worked with the Tulsa Children's Museum to convert an abandoned community center north of downtown Tulsa into an exciting center for learning, innovation, and play – the Discovery Lab. The goal of the project was to create an interactive museum made up of wonderful spaces and unique exhibits within a very limited budget. The museum serves children of all ages. Within two years of its opening, Tulsa Children's Museum attracted 100,000 more visitors than anticipated, underscoring the area's enthusiastic support for activity-based STEM learning.
